

C.I.A. HEAD TO BE SPEAKER

A. W. Dulles and Dr. Dodds Will Address Princeton Alumni

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 1—Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, will speak at the eighth annual Princeton National Alumni Conference next week at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Va.

Mr. Dodds will be heard Thursday evening, and Mr. Dulles, a member of the Princeton Class of '14, will speak Friday night at a dinner given by the alumni association of Washington, D. C.

The conference will open Thursday with a luncheon under the auspices of the alumni association of Virginia. Panels relating to the schools and scholarships committee, regional alumni activities and undergraduate opinion have been scheduled for Thursday and Friday. George J. Cooke, Class of '22, secretary for regions of the University Fund, will make a report Saturday, and the alumni dinner is set for Saturday night.
